Amsterdam Research Institute for Legal Studies

Law and Justice Across Borders

RESEARCH SEMINAR

Show me the Money![1] Money Matters in Migration Policy and Practice

15-16 June 2018, Amsterdam

Organizers: Tesseltje de Lange, Annette Schrauwen & Betty de Hart

Friday June 15 - Venue: University of Amsterdam, Faculty of Law, Nieuwe Achtergracht 166, 1018 WV Amsterdam

10:00 Welcome 1st floor, Eiland

10:15-11:45 Session 1: State Funding and Migration (Chair: Tesseltje de Lange, UvA) Room A1.04

Elaine McGregor (Maastricht graduate school of governance), Money Matters: The Role of Funding in Migration Governance

Caterina Molinari (Katholieke Universiteit Leuven, European Law), Digging a moat around fortress Europe: EU funding as an instrument of exclusion

Lorena Gazzotti (Cambridge University, Center of development studies), Migration policy as social policy. Donors, NGOs and IOs and the politics of migrant care in Morocco

11:45-13:00 Lunch break 1st floor, Eiland

13.00-14.00 Public Key note lecture: Prof. Ayelet Shachar (University of Toronto), *Citizenship for Sale? Legal and Ethical Puzzles

Room A2.08

Ayelet Shachar is Director of the Max Planck Institute for the Study of Religious and Ethnic Diversity, Gottingen and University of Toronto, research chair in citizenship and multiculturalism

[1] The title of the seminar 'Show me the Money' is taken from the 1996 film 'Jerry Maguire' with Tom Cruise and Cuba Gooding Jr.. It is also the title of television shows where candidates can win a large sum of money, like a lottery based on some skills but mainly on luck.

Amsterdam Research Institute for Legal Studies

Amsterdams Universiteitsfonds

Law and Justice Across Borders

Amsterdam Centre for European Law and Governance

14:00-15:30 Session 2: Financial barriers outside migration law
(Chair: Betty de Hart, VU) Room A1.04

Anita Böcker, María Bruquetas, Cornelia Schweppe and Vincent Horn (Radboud University center for migration law and Gutenberg University Mainz, Institut für Erziehungswissenschaft), 'This is affordable!' The role of money matters in the emergence of live-in migrant carer arrangements

Rorick Tovar (University of Bern, Institute for public law), Choice of law and regulatory competition in marriage law

Cristiano d'Orsi (University of Johannesburg, Faculty of law), Combating money laundering and remittances of migrants in Africa: not a so simple relation

15:30-16:00 Tea break 1st floor, Eiland

16:00-17:30 Session 3: Selected by Merit: Investor Citizenship & the Highly Skilled (Chair: Annette Schrauwen, UvA) Room A1.04

Kristin Surak (University of London, School of Oriental and African Studies), Citizenship. What Money can buy [via Skype]

Elena Prats (Uppsala University, philosophy of law), Contract Law as an Assessment method for Citizenship by Investment Programs

Tesseltje de Lange (University of Amsterdam, Amsterdam Research Institute for Legal Studies) The trusted sponsor of highly skilled migrants: a (too) costly shift in power relations?

19:00 Diner

Saturday June 16 – Venue: University Library, Singel 425, 1012 WP Amsterdam, Room C1.13 (Belle van Zuylenzaal)

10:00-12:30 Session 4: Unpacking money as exclusionary instrument
(Chair: Tesseltje de Lange) Room C1.13

Helga Eggebø and Anne Staver (Norway, Nordland research institute and Oslo, Institute for Social Reseach), Follow the money: Income requirements in Norwegian Immigration Regulations

Betty de Hart and Judith de Jong (VU Amsterdam migration law and UvA), Mixed-status families and financial consequences of irregular residence status

Sandra Mantu (Radboud University, Centre for Migration Law), Women as EU citizens: caught between work, (sufficient) resources and the market

Willem Maas (York University Canada, political science), Money in internal migration

12:30-13:00 round up & future plans

13:00-14:00 Lunch

Wireless Internet: UvA Open Wi-Fi